

NCDC TIMES

NATIONAL CHILD DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

194TH EDITION

RISING QUEENS

To the world you may be just a teacher
but to your students
you are the Hero.

NCDC NEWS

Inauguration

Hon. Minister Smt. KC
Chinchu Rani
inaugurates
National Child Development
Council's 54th Online
Montessori Batch.

We wish you all the very best Aasim Velimanna. This is our heartfelt birthday present to you to conquer more and more heights. Our prayers are always with you and your family.

Azim Velimanna, who swam the Aluva river with 90% disability, was presented with a prize of Rs. 25,000 by the National Child Development Council at the Kozhikode Press Club.

Resolution

The National Development Council (NDC) has passed a resolution calling for the introduction of practical learning methods to replace the existing ones.

How to develop the the child's fine motor skills? As a teacher or a parent, it is very important to give activities which enhance their fine motor skills.

There are so many inner and outer activities such as , drawing, coloring, painting, play dough, water sponge, cutting shapes, collecting leaves, folding and unfolding cloths, wearing and removing buttons, etc. But while giving these activities we should ensure the physical and mental readiness of the children.

Love

Love is like a sea,
If you go deep
in to the sea,
you can see the Real beauti.
If you go through the surface ,
you must face the
Preasure of the wave.
Go deep and deep ...
Feel the real beauti.

PARENTING

"Great parents are playful parents, ones who always remember how important it is to have fun with their kids. That doesn't mean, of course, that moms and dads need to be nonstop entertainers or amuse their kids every minute of the day. What it means is embracing the joy of a child's world and sharing it by being part of their play.

ZOOM CLASS

CRAFTS

White little bunny on a sunny day,
Went to the forest jumping on the way.
Up he looked and his eyes shone bright
A colourful rainbow up in height.
Red and blue and green and yellow,
What a treat! He told to his mind.
He jumped and jumped to catch the rainbow,
Up he jumped but down he fell.
He tried and tried hard in pain,
Poor little bunny, lost in vain.
He picked some colourful leaves from the ground,
Dreaming the colourful bow, happily he went.

JALEENA MAHROOFT
Trainee, NCDC
Batch -38

THANK YOU